

11 Italian White Wines That Prove You Should Be Drinking From the Boot This Summer

Move over, rosé.

By SARA L. SCHNEIDER 🍷

ADVERTISEMENT
← Ads by Google

Feudo Montoni 2019 Catarratto del Masso Sicilia DOC

Photo: Courtesy of Catarratto del Masso

The Catarratto fruit for this pretty white from Feudo Montoni, from 55-year-old vines, is vinified in cement with some skin contact and 6 months on the lees, resulting in terrific texture and a rounded mouth-feel. Pink grapefruit, acacia blossom and fresh-cut grass aromas lead into a delicate but structured palate full of peaches and fresh-squeezed citrus, plus a kick of puckery lime zest on the finish.

<https://robbreport.com/food-drink/wine/italian-white-wines-1234613654/>